GRADE POINT AVERAGE: Prior to Fall 1992, the semester grade-point average includes all University of Arkansas, Fayetteville courses taken that semester. The cumulative grade-point average includes all University of Arkansas, Fayetteville courses (only). Beginning Fall 1992, the grade-point averages are calculated using only University of Arkansas, Fayetteville courses of the same level (Undergraduate, Graduate, or Law). Grade-point averages are computed for Graduate School from Spring 1978 through Fall 1979 and after Summer 1992.

GRADE RENEWAL (1979-1986): From Fall 1979 to Fall 1986, an undergraduate student was permitted to register for a course in which a grade has been previously received. designate that course for "grade renewed" under certain conditions and have only the second grade earned counted in the cumulative totals, including the grade-point average. The symbol for grade renewal (R) appears to the left of the credit hours attempted for the first course, and an adjusted cumulative total (adj. cum.) appears under the cumulative totals following the semester totals of the semester in which the course is repeated.

GRADE FORGIVENESS (Fall 1996 – Fall 2019):

Undergraduate students may repeat courses under certain conditions and only the second grade earned is counted in the GPA calculation. The symbol (R) appears by the original course.

GRADE EXCLUSION (Spring 2020 & Forward)

Undergraduate students may request up to 9 hours to be excluded from their undergraduate cumulative grade-point average. Grade Exclusion replaces the former Grade Forgiveness policy. The symbol (E) appears by the excluded course.

COURSE NUMBERS: Each course offered by the University is designated by a number composed of four digits. The first digit identifies the level of the course: 0. below freshman level, which cannot be applied to degree requirements; 1. freshman; 2. sophomore; 3. junior; 4. senior or approved graduate; 5, 6, and 7, graduate. Courses in the School of Architecture which are designed for the fifth year of the undergraduate, professional curriculum have course numbers beginning with 5. The second and third digits identify the course within the department. The fourth digit identifies the semester-hour value of the course; variable credit courses do not have a fourth digit. Prior to the Fall 1957, the course designator was a three-digit number, the first digit identified the level of the course and the third digit identified the semester-hour value of the course. Beginning with Fall 1992, a L character suffix code was added to the course I D.
